Lesson I

Part I -- Conversation

Analysis and Translation 1. A. May you be blessed. (a greeting) B. Elessings to you. (return greeting) 2. Stem of first person (possessive)pronoun, "my" All nouns in Panjabi are divided into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and feminine noun, it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a feminine noun, it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a masculine noun it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endings "My" with a masculine noun "My" with a feminine noun "My" with a feminine noun "My" with a feminine noun "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine (a masculine noun) A proper name 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" A. My name is Faruk. A. Mera na Faruk e
(a greeting) B. Elessings to you. (return greeting) 2. Stem of first person (possessive) pronoun, "my" All nouns in Panjabi are divided into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and feminine nouns. When "my" is used with a feminine noun, it takes the vowel endingi When "my" is used with a masculine noun it takes the vowel endinga When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endings "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be"	Ane	alysis and Translation	Pan;	jabi
(return greeting) 2. Stem of first person (possessive) pronoun, "my" All nouns in Panjabi are divided into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and feminine nouns. When "my" is used with a feminine noun, it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a masculine noun it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endings "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine meri Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be"	1.		A .	səlamã (lækəm
(possessive)pronoun, "my" All nouns in Panjabi are divided into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and feminine nouns. When "my" is used with a feminine noun, it takes the vowel endingi When "my" is used with a masculine noun it takes the vowel endinga When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endingse (Masc.) iã (Fem. "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		B. Blessings to you. (return greeting)	B . u	alækəm səlam
ed into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and feminine nouns. When "my" is used with a feminine noun, it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a masculine noun it takes the vowel ending When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endings "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine mere (Masc.) meria (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" mere (Masc.) meria (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" mere (Masc.) meria (Fem.) A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e	2.	Stem of first person (possessive)pronoun, "my"		mer-noun, it takes the vowel endingi When "my" is used with a mas- culine noun it takes the vowel endinga When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endingse (Masc.) iã (Fem. "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, mas- culine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) nã A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, mas- culine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		ed into two categories or genders, masculine nouns and femculine noun it takes the vowel endinga When "my" is used with a plural noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endingse (Masc.) iã (Fem. "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) nã A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e				-i noun, masculine or feminine, it takes the vowel endingse (Masc.) iã (Fem. "My" with a masculine noun mera "My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, masculine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) nã A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		culine noun it takes the vowel		- a
"My" with a feminine noun meri "My" with a plural noun, mas- culine and feminine mere (Masc.) meriã (Fem.) Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) nã A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, mas- culine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		noun, masculine or feminine, it		-e (Masc.) iã (Fem.)
"My" with a plural noun, mas- culine and feminine mere (Masc.) Moun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) na A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, mas- culine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		"My" with a masculine noun		mera
culine and feminine mere (Masc.) Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) na A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		"My" with a feminine noun		meri
Noun stem, "name" (a masculine noun) A proper name Faruk 3rd person singular, masculine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e
3rd person singular, mas- culine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e				nã
culine and feminine, of I verb "to be" e		A proper name		Faruk
A. My name is Faruk. A. mera nã Faruk e		culine and feminine, of I		е
		A. My name is Faruk.	A .	mera nã Faruk e

3.	Stem of second person possessive pronoun "your"		tuod
	Possessive case ending for "your" when it is used with a masculine noun		a
	Possessive case ending with feminine noun		i
	Possessive case ending with plural nouns, masculine and feminine		e (Masc.) iã (Fem.)
	Interrogative "what"		ki
	Third person singular, mas- culine and feminine, of I verb "to be"		е
	A. What is your name?	A .	tuoda nã ki e
4.	Proper name		Ræmat
	B. My name is Raemat.	В.	mera nã Ræmat e
5.	Nominative singular of 2nd person pronoun "you" (formal). (Nominative means that this is the form the word will take when it is the subject of a sentence, and the subject of a sentence determines the form of the verb).		tũsĩ
	Interrogative "where"		$\mathtt{kIt}^{ ext{h}}\mathtt{e}$
	Stem of verb "live, remain, stay	y"	ræ-
	Singular present tense formal ending - masculine and feminine		-nde
	Second person formal singular present form of I verb "to be"		0
	You (formal) live		tūsī rænde o
	A. Where do you live?	A •	tusi kIthe rænde o

6.	Nominative singular of first person pronoun "I"		m æ
	Singular present tense verb ending - masculine		-na
	Singular present tense verb ending - feminine		-ni
	First person singular present form of I verb "to be"		a a
	B. I live in Chicago. (masculine speaker)	B .	mæ šīkago ræna a (elided to ræna)
	I live in Chicago. (fem)		mæ̃ ŝIkago ræni ä
7.	Stem of verb "do, make"		kar-
	Singular present tense formal ending - masculine and feminine		-de
	Second person formal singular present form of I verb "to be"		0
	You (formal) do		tūsī karde o
	A. What do you do?	A .	tūsī ki karde o
8.	Stem of verb "read, study"		par-
	Singular present tense verb ending - masculine		-na
	Singular present tense verb ending - feminine		-ni
	First person singular present form of I verb "to be"		ã
	"in"		υIĉ
	"in Chicago" (elided)		ŝIkago-Iĉ
	B. I study in Chicago (masculine speaker)	В.	mæ sīkago-Ic parna a (elided to parna)
	I study in Chicago (feminine speaker)		mæ ŝIkago-Iĉ parni ä

		•
9.	Stem of "read, study"	par-
	Singular present tense formal ending - masculine and feminine	-de
	Second person formal singular present form of I verb "to be"	0
	You (formal) study	tusi parde o
	\underline{A} . What do you study? \underline{A} .	tusi ki parde o
10.	"Panjabi" (language) (feminine noun)	pənjabi
	B. I study Panjabi B. (masculine speaker)	mão penjabi parna a (elided to parna)
	I study Panjabi (feminine speaker)	mæ panjabi parni a
11.	"difficult"	muŝkal
	Panjabi has more than one "to be" verb. Two of these will be discussed in the grammar section of this lesson. We have used I verb "to be", and now we will use II verb "to be".

hU-

-ndi

-nda

B.

A. penjabi muŝkal hUndi e

nə̃i pənjabi muskal nə̃i hundi

Stem of II verb "to be"

Singular present tense verb . ending - feminine

Third person singular present form of I verb "to be"

Is Panjabi difficult?

No, Panjabi is not difficult.

B.

Singular present tense verb ending - masculine

12. "no"

"very, many"

nəī

bara (when used with a masculine noun)

bari (when used with a feminine noun) bare (when used with a plural noun, masculine ' bariã feminine)

"hot"

gerem (this adjective does not change to fit the gender of the noun; it remains the same for all nouns)

"heat" (feminine)

ge rmi

Is it very hot in Chicago? (Literally, Is there a lot of heat in Chicago?)

hUndi e

A. SIkago-Ić bari germi

Is Chicago hot? (Chicago is a masculine noun)

šIkago gerem hUnda e (elided form, hUndæ)

13. "not"

naí

0

Third person singular, he, she, it (Remember that all nouns in Panjabi are masculine or feminine, and that what is translated into English as "it" is actually a masculine "it" or a feminine "it").

No, it is not very hot. ("it" refers to Chicago so is masculine) nei o bara gerem nei В. hUnda

14. "cold" (feminine noun)

sardi

A. Is it very cold in Chicago? A. (Literally, Is there a lot of cold in Chicago?)

šIkago-Ic bari sardi hUndi e

- 15. "yes"
 - B. Yes, it is very cold in Chicago.
- 16. Interrogative, "how much, how many"

"big, large"

- A. How big is Chicago?
- 17. "city" (masculine noun)

 B. Chicago is a very big city.

18. "people"

"are"

- A. How many people are there in Chicago?
- 19. B. There are many people in the city.
- 20. A. God protect you (used as good-bye)
 - B. God protect you.

axo; afo; aca; hela; a.

B. axo ŝIkago-Iĉ bari sardi hUndi e

kInna (with masc. noun)

kInni (with fem. noun)

kInne (with plural nouns, mas. kInniã (fem. pl.)

uada (with masc. noun)

Uadi (with fem. noun)

vade (with masc. pl.) vadiã(with fem. pl.)

A. sIkago kInna vada hUnda e (hUndæ, elided form)

sæ• r

B. sIkago bara vada Sær e

lok

ne

- A. ŝIkago-Iĉ kInne lok ne
- B. sæ·r-Ic bare lok në
- A. xUda hafIz
- B. xUda hafIz